PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO DEFENDANT MARMAXX OPERATING CORPORATION'S MOTION TO PRECLUDE PORTIONS OF THE REPORT OF DUANE R. FERGUSON, P.E.

Defendant Marmaxx Operating Corporation (“Marmaxx”) has filed a Motion In Limine to Preclude Co-Defendant Jofran Sales, Inc. Expert Duane R. Ferguson, P.E. from offering a speculative opinion that “the physical damage to the chair is inconsistent with it being on the platform when Mr. Biniek sat on it and the chair fell off of the platform edge causing the leg to break off.” Plaintiffs agree with Co-Defendant Marmaxx that this proffered fantasy opinion is nothing more than revisionist history by Mr. Ferguson in an effort to completely ignore all factual evidence of record to the contrary that the chair was on the floor at the time Plaintiff-Husband sat on it and when it collapsed.

The bedrock foundational support for Mr. Ferguson’s “stretch” opinion is based on Plaintiff testifying at his deposition that he could not recall one way or the other whether the chair was on the platform or the floor at the time his accident occurred. (See Defendant Marmaxx Exhibit B at p. 19).

Aside from ignoring the unequivocal testimony of eyewitnesses to the accident Marla Biniek and her son Edward Biniek, III, that the chair was on the floor at the time Mr. Biniek sat on it when it collapsed. (Defendant Marmaxx Exhibit C at pp. 6-7 and Exhibit C to Plaintiffs' Motion to Preclude Testimony of Defendant Jofran's Expert Duane R. Ferguson, P.E. Docket 38-1), Mr. Ferguson is less than candid with this Court in ignoring other evidence in this case that unquestionably establishes that the chair was in fact on the floor when Plaintiff-Husband sat on it.

Within seconds of Plaintiff-Husband's accident, store associate employee Tara Hughes came to the aid of Mr. Biniek when she heard the chair collapse and provided the following corroborating evidence:

- Q. Do you believe Mr. Biniek sat in the chair while it was on the platform or on the ground?
A. DEFINITELY ON THE GROUND because if it was on the platform he would have hit his head...
- Q. Other than the fact that he – the way he fell, do you have any other basis for believing the chair was put on the floor?
A. OTHER THAN HE TOLD ME SO. HE SAID, ALL I DID WAS TAKE IT OFF I WANTED TO TRY IT OUT AND THERE'S --
- Q. Did you hear him put the chair on the ground?
A. Yes. (Exhibit A at pp. 44-45).

Further corroborating evidence was the testimony of Defendant Marmaxx Store Manager Mary Lucille Murtha who came to investigate Mr. Biniek's accident immediately after follow employee Tara Hughes had summoned her over.

- Q. When you arrived to the store furniture area, did you ever ask Mr. Biniek what happened?
A. YES, WELL, HE, TOLD ME, HE SAID I TOOK THE CHAIR OFF THE PLATFORM AND I SAT DOWN AND THE LEG BROKE OFF ... (Exhibit B at p. 29).

When Mary Lucille Murtha completed her TJX Accident Report she completed the following:

CUSTOMER'S VERSION OF ACCIDENT: Customer sat in a chair on the sales floor. The right front leg of the chair broke causing the customer to fall to the ground. (Exhibit C).

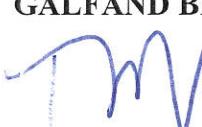

While an expert is certainly given some latitude in extrapolating from the facts, an expert is not permitted to engage in a self-directed fraudulent fact creating mission substituting his opinions for a version of the facts for which he believes would be most helpful for the defense of the party that retained him. GE v. Joiner, 522 U.S. 136, 146 (1997).

While parties to litigation may have a subjective disagreement over an objective set of facts, our civil justice system is not a vehicle for a party to manipulate the truth. Allowing Mr. Ferguson to testify is tantamount to giving Defendant Jofran a green light to manipulate the truth in this case.

Respectfully submitted,

GALFAND BERGER, LLP

1       feet, like just a couple steps away from where
2       he was.

3           Q.       And then I believe it was your
4       testimony that at that time there were no chairs
5       on the floor, they were on the platforms?

6           A.       No. I didn't see it on the floor
7       when I walked past, no.

8           Q.       And then three or four steps later
9       is when you heard the sound?

10          A.       Yes.

11          Q.       Do you believe Mr. Biniek sat in 12       the chair while it was on the platform or on the 13       ground?

14          A.       Definitely on the ground. Because 15       if he was on the platform, he would have hit his
16       head. He would have -- because the chairs are 17       always kind of towards the front or the side of
18       the platform, so like you would fall right off
19       the platform also and they're like a lift up.
20       So he would have hit his head. He was -- he
21       wouldn't have fell on his -- on his knees.

22          Q.       Other than the fact that he -- the 23       way he fell, do you have any other basis for 24       believing the chair was put on the floor?

TARA HUGHES

1                   A.        Other than he told me so.  He
2        said, all I did was take it off and I wanted to
3        try it out.  And there's --

4                   Q.        Okay.  So do you believe in that
5        three or four steps from when you saw him and
6        there was no chair on the floor until the
7        accident happened, that he had time to take it
8        off the platform, sit it on the ground and then
9        sit down in it and the chair broke?

10                  A.        Yes, because it was -- it doesn't
11        take that long.  They're not that heavy, you
12        just pick it up, put it down, sit.  That's it.

13                  Q.        Did you hear him put the chair
14        down on the ground?

15                  A.        Yes.

16                  Q.        Can you describe generally your
17        circumstances for leaving T.J.Maxx's employment?

18                  A.        And why is that relevant?

19                  MR. STOFKO:  Jim, do you want to 20        direct her to answer the question?

21                  MR. LYNN:  I can't direct her to
22        answer the question.  I'm not directing her not

MARY LUCILLE MURTHA
BINIEK vs. MARMAXX OPERATING CORPOctober 08, 2014

1                   A.           I saw Tara came over and said, I,
2 you know, I didn't see anything, but I was a few
3 aisles down and I heard a noise. I came over.
4 And Mr. Biniek had already gotten up. And he
5 said, I sat down on the chair and the leg broke.
6 So then she went in turn and paged me.

7                   Q.           When you arrived to the store
8 furnishing or furniture area, did you ever ask
9 Mr. Biniek what happened?

10                  A.           Yes. Well, he, he told me, he
11 said, I took the chair off the platform and I
12 sat down and the leg broke off. So, of course,
13 I asked if he was okay. And he said, yeah. He 14 said, I hit my right side and the back of my
15 head when I went down. And at that point, I
16 asked if he wanted me to call -- you know, if he
17 needed anything, if he needed me to call for an
18 ambulance. And he said, no, he was okay. And I
19 said, well, let me take your name and your
20 address and your phone number and, you know, I
21 will call this in.

22                  Q.           Did you ask either of his children
23 what they saw or what they heard?

24                  A.           Yes. They told me. They said
